

DINING GUIDE

Mulberrys

It is not surprising that Mulberrys are busier than ever having just received their fifth consecutive award from Georgina Campbell's 'the best places to eat and drink in Ireland'. They also just received recommendation from one of Ireland's leading food critics Paulo Tulio and also from the Irish Independents' food journalist and critic Lucinda O'Sullivan. At Mulberrys in Barna, located just 5 miles from Galway city, the passion for good food oozes from the menu. Fresh local and seasonal ingredients are used to make beautifully balanced, mouth-watering dishes. With warm, comfortable surroundings and very reasonable prices, Mulberrys have made going out exciting again.

This Valentine's it's all about you so spoil yourself with a trip to Mulberrys. Menus start from €19 for 2 courses and €23 for 3 courses with an a la carte and daily fish special also on offer.

Péarla na Mara

Péarla na Mara, located in the centre of Oranmore, offer Irish-inspired cuisine with a Mediterranean touch. Using local, fresh ingredients, the signature dishes at this restaurant are seafood, with a variety of locally sourced meat and vegetarian options also available. Several delicious Italian pasta dishes also feature on the a la carte menu and Head Chef Kamel Ourdache has also recently added pizzas to the food offerings. Customers can bring their own bottle of wine for a nominal charge of €5.00 or may pair their meals with drinks from a carefully selected wine list.

Celebrate Valentine's 2012 with a romantic meal for two at Péarla na Mara. You and your partner can enjoy a 3 course set dinner menu with a complimentary glass of prosecco and tea or coffee for just €29.95 per person.
